

FAQ

We have various Starrett tools that have certifications. How often do they need to be updated or re-certified?

There is no specific timetable for re-calibration of tools. There are many factors that should be taken into consideration when a tool needs to be re-calibrated. Amount of use, environment and care of tool, etc. must be considered. It is up to each company or individual to decide how often a tool needs to be re-certified.

What is the guarantee on a Starrett tool?

Starrett will warranty the tool against defects in materials and workmanship for one year from date of purchase. If upon inspection it is determined that the tool has been abused or misused the warranty will be void.

If you're looking for quality measuring tools, visit our website.